Pensions

Under the pensions auto-enrolment regime, employers have a duty to automatically enrol all eligible jobholders into a pension scheme from the employer's staging date. The annual earnings trigger for eligible jobholders is £10,000 for 2016-17.

Employers may calculate the pension contributions in a number of ways.

Where the employer works out the amount due based on a band of earnings between thresholds (which are currently the same as the National Insurance lower and upper earnings limits), the minimum overall contribution payable will be 8% of the employee's qualifying earnings, of which at least 3% must be paid by the employer.

The contribution will be phased in as follows:

	Up to 5 April 2018	6 April 2018 - 5 April 2019	From 6 April 2019
Employer	1%	2%	3%
Employee	1%	3%	5%

Please note that employee contributions are gross (including tax retained at source).

Approved Mileage Rates

Employees who use their own cars or vans for business purposes may be reimbursed using HMRC's approved mileage allowance payments: 45p per mile for the first 10,000 miles and 25p thereafter.

Income tax and NICs may be due on higher reimbursement rates and tax relief may be available on lower rates.

Advisory fuel rates apply to employees using company cars – contact us for the latest rates.

Childcare

Employer supported childcare (ESC), such as childcare vouchers, may be offered in addition to employees' pay or as a reduction in pay (commonly known as salary sacrifice). Under salary sacrifice the employee gives up pay, which is taxable and NIC-able, in return for childcare vouchers, which may not be. This may also save NIC for the employer.

For those on low rates of pay these arrangements may not be appropriate. Changes to cash earnings could have an effect on entitlement to tax credits and statutory benefits such as Statutory Sick Pay (SSP), Statutory Maternity Pay (SMP) and Shared Parental Pay because of the way these are calculated. In addition a salary sacrifice cannot be allowed to reduce a person's hourly pay rate below the national minimum or national living wage.

The new Tax-Free Childcare scheme is expected to be launched in 2017. Unlike the current scheme self-employed parents will also be eligible to participate. The Government will 'top up' payments at a rate of 20p for every 80p that families pay into an online account.

ESC will continue to be open to new joiners until April 2018. Once the new scheme is available existing members will be able to choose if they wish to remain in the existing scheme or switch to the new scheme.

Tax Codes

Tax codes are used to calculate the amount of tax to deduct from an employee's pay or pension. A tax code normally consists of several numbers and a letter, eg 1060L. Multiplying the number by ten will indicate the total amount of income that can be earned before paying tax. The letter shows whether the code includes one of the standard allowances, as follows:

Code Usage

- L Those eligible for the basic personal allowance; also emergency tax codes
- Y Those born before 6 April 1938 and eligible for the full personal allowance
- T Other calculations are required to work out the personal allowance
- K When total allowances are less than total deductions
- BR All income is taxed at the basic rate
- S Taxed at the rate of Scottish income tax
- N Taxpayers who are 'transferors' under the Transferable Tax Allowance
- M Taxpayers who are 'recipients' under the Transferable Tax Allowance
- OT Allowances have been reduced to nil and income is taxed at the appropriate rates
- D0 All income is taxed at the higher rate
- D1 All income is taxed at the additional rate
- NT No tax is to be taken from an income or pension
